The Happiness Factor – The influence of DMS

Daily Mindfulness Sessions have always been an effective tool to continue inspiring Staff & Students for leading a healthy lifestyle. The belief of TIMSR management to develop mindful leaders has not impacted in any manner in the present situation. Regularity in DMS; shows the commitment of management towards their staff & students in bringing the best of talent. Moreover, encouraging students on internship to practice meditation & exercise on a regular basis is one of the vital strength of TIMSRites.

TIMSR management has gone to the ground level to ensure that each of its employees & students are strengthening their immunity & developing themselves as mindful people.

Educational Transformation at TIMSR (Technological Intervention)

TIMSR has always ensured about innovative pedagogy & andragogical tools to encourage students to keep abreast with their intellectual competencies. In addition to regular course related sessions, there is a gamut of value added sessions like Current Affairs Analysis (CAA), Peak Performance Coaching (PPC), Self-Management & Soft Skills. These sessions are focussed upon developing Mindful Leaders with high level of technical knowledge.

The students with an attitude of learning & developing technological skills in addition to soft skills have increased market presence with 100 % internship during their major project.

Transformation in the Examination:

The April news-letter consists of heartfelt gratitude messages from the students who have taken semester-end examinations for their respective semesters. It is evident that the innovative approach of the management & the faculty members of conducting online examination is a huge success. Not only this, it was adopted with an in-depth online mentoring to the students & clarifying their doubts by putting them at ease for taking exams. The pattern was appreciated by all the stakeholders

Moving ahead on the learning curve

A major part of the success of any competent leader is backed by the significant role played by their mentor called “GURU”. TIMSR management, in this context has continuously worked upon developing their faculty in all the areas of business so as to mentor & coach students in addition to self-development. Some of the significant FDPs, Webinars, Workshops attended by TIMSR faculty are as follows:

1. Five Days Online FDP on "How to write and publish a Research paper in SCOPUS Indexed Journal" organized by Bedekar Institute of Management Studies and Research

There are forty-nine fishing boats in the North Sea. How could an enemy ram & sink the lot in twelve straight courses, starting from the place shown & finishing up at the same place.

TESTIMONIALS

I completed my internship successfully from IIFL Securities Ltd. My primary job role was to track market and open Demat accounts and do fundamental and technical analysis. The theoretical & practical approach of Demat accounts, technical analysis which was taught in Sem 2 has helped me in pandemic scenario to understand the market better and give my best in the internship .My key learnings from internship includes convincing skills, presentation skills & analytical mind-set. These KSAs has helped me achieve the target given to self. I am grateful to TIMSR & faculty members for always inspiring & teaching the latest in the market to maintain status quo

Saurabh Patnaik (PGDM Finance 19-21)

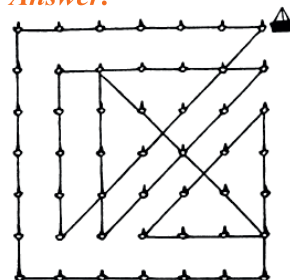

Internship is a period where we learn new things at each & every step we take. This practical world enabled me to associate my learning at TIMSR with those here. I as team leader leading a team of 11 members & team coordinator for 2 teams is learning continuously to develop & hone my skills & competencies. Right from sourcing talent till On-boarding, I have learnt many more things. TIMSR & my faculty members have always guided me to choose the best amongst the alternatives available. I have also learned how to conduct and deal with people which is one of the key function of an HR in the organisation. In a nut shell, I feel it's an achievement to handle a team during my internship & "Lead to Learn"
